

Survey on Climate Assembly UK – Item for discussion

MPs from six select committees of the House of Commons joined together to set up a citizens' assembly on climate change to look at how the UK should reach its commitment to reach net zero carbon emissions by 2050.

The Climate Assembly UK brought together 108 people from across the UK. Together they were representative of the wider UK population in terms of age, gender, ethnicity, educational level, where in the UK they live, whether they live in an urban or rural area, and how concerned they are about climate change.

They worked together to create recommendations to Government.

How can you help?

MPs want to know what you and your communities think about the recommendations made by the assembly.

Discuss these questions with your school, workplace, family or community group and submit a joint response. It's a great opportunity to hear others' views on these issues and to share the outcomes of your discussions with MPs.
